GLIMPSES OF POLICE EXPO

Bureau of Police Research & Development has been working for improvement in the delivery of police services and promoting best practices. BPR&D is making strides in the following domains:

- ◆ Developing standardisation and accreditation norms for Police technologies.
- ◆ Evolving police practices congruent with emerging challenges of low intensity conflict, safe & smart city policing, cyber security & forensics, communication trade offs and so on.
- ◆ Speedy and qualitative investigation, prosecution & 'end-justice'.
- ◆ Quality of correctional services with a focus on psycho-behavioral aspects, skill generation and mainstreaming confluence.
- ◆ People friendly policing formats with focus on community interface and impact assessment mechanism.
- ◆ Integrating scholars, professionals, businessmen, NGOs and various social justice organizations with policing grid for greater synergies, evolving as a National resource.

Established in 1927, FICCI is the largest and oldest apex business organisation in India. Its history is closely interwoven with India's struggle for independence, its industrialization, and its emergence as one of the most rapidly growing global economies.

A non-government, not-for-profit organisation, FICCI is the voice of India's business and industry. From influencing policy to encouraging debate, engaging with policy makers and civil society, FICCI articulates the views and concerns of industry. It serves its members from the Indian private and public corporate sectors and multinational companies, drawing its strength from diverse regional chambers of commerce and industry across states, reaching out to over 2,50,000 companies.

FICCI provides a platform for networking and consensus building within and across sectors and is the first port of call for Indian industry, policy makers and the international business community.
